HISTORY

Trained from a young age to be a Russian special agent, Natasha Romanoff defected to the United States after clashing with the Avengers. Since then, Natasha has served as a vital ally to many of the most powerful organizations on the planet, particularly S.H.I.E.L.D. and the Avengers.

Natasha spent much of her career as a solo mercenary, doing high-level black ops for paying clients. She tries to never take a job she believes to be immoral, but in the world of espionage, things are not always so clear-cut.

PERSONALITY

Charming and cool-headed, Natasha's personality makes her an excellent spy. A life of espionage has made her slow to trust others, but those closest to her consider her a good friend and an exceptional team leader.
