HISTORY

Born in a dystopic alternate future (Earth-928), Miguel O'Hara became a brilliant geneticist under the employ of the powerful Alchemax corporation. After being pressured into performing a genetic experiment that killed its subject, Miguel attempted to resign from Alchemax, but his bosses instead injected Miguel with a high dose of an addictive drug that only they could supply.

To find a cure for his addiction, Miguel redid his dangerous genetic experiment, splicing his own DNA with that of a spider. It cured Miguel of his addiction but mutated his body, giving him spider-powers.

Today, having eliminated his potential future while time-traveling to the present day, Miguel resides in Earth-616.

PERSONALITY

Miguel is a serious crimefighter and a brilliant scientist. While he has a particular hatred for the type of corporate evildoers who forced him to mutate his own body, Miguel will fight anyone who threatens the safety of innocents.
