HISTORY

Born with the proportionate speed and strength of a squirrel, Doreen Green has been fighting super villains since she was 14. In less than a decade, Squirrel Girl has personally prevented worldwide disaster at the hands of villains as powerful as Thanos and Galactus. Squirrel Girl's exploits have never made her famous, in no small part because people in the media tend to find her squirrel powers a little silly. While Green can communicate with all sorts of squirrels, she has a special bond with one she named Tippy-Toe, who has fought crime by her side for the longest.

More recently, Green has enrolled in the computer science program at Empire State University. Despite her collegiate studies, Green still finds the time to help protect the people of NYC.

PERSONALITY

Relentlessly happy-go-lucky, Doreen Green has a lot of faith in the goodness of others, even villains. She prefers to solve problems without violence if it can be helped, and she's talked villains out of committing crimes about as often as she's actually defeated them. Green's ideal world would be one in which everyone could just chill out with one another peacefully.
